1 Purpose

To forbid the sale of desk copies of text books.

2 Scope

Members of the University community receiving free copies of text books directly from publishers.

3 Policy

The Senate, recognizing that the practise of publishers in providing that no cost examination and desk copies of text books is a valuable service to the teaching profession, believes it incumbent on those receiving such books to use them as best they can in the performance of their duties. The Senate does not accept that there are circumstances that make the sale of such texts to be acceptable behaviour. In future the University will try to discourage buyers from operating on the campus.
