

Clinical Dietitian

Nutritional and Eating Disorders

Nelson, B.C.

Hourly Wage:

$35.65 - $44.56

Interior Health

Position Summary

Interior Health's Nelson Health Centre has a permanent part-time Nutritional and Eating Disorder Dietitian position opening. We are seeking a Clinical Dietitian knowledgeable in nutritional and eating disorders. This is an opportunity to collaborate with multidisciplinary care team (including physicians and eating disorder clinic coordinator) to provide nutrition counselling support to adult and pediatric clients.

In this position you will utilize advanced clinical techniques in the area of nutrition management and nutritional and eating disorder and weight preoccupation for individuals and client groups. You act as a clinical resource for dietitians and other health care providers in the community. Provides in-services and education about nutrition and eating disorders to staff, students, physicians and community agencies. Plans, implements, and evaluates nutritional care for clients/patients according to practice guidelines. Instructs and counsels clients/patients and families regarding appropriate nutritional requirements, clinical diet regimes, food planning and preparation.

We will provide support for professional development and education opportunities related to profession and area of work. We offer Kootenay Boundary Dietitian team meetings with education updates and peer supports, and our Professional Practice Councils.

Days of work are Tuesdays and Wednesdays with alternating Thursdays. Additional shift work is available in Kootenay Lake Hospital, Outpatients, and/or Nelson Jubilee Manor (i.e. Long Term Care).

Qualifications

- Registration with the College of Dietitians of British Columbia. Bachelor's degree from a recognized university with a major in dietetics/nutrition or equivalent.
- Knowledge of eating disorder theory, available programs and services, their interrelationships and their function in delivering care in the community.
- Completion of recognized dietetic internship in an accredited hospital.
- Two (2) years experience in clinical dietetics and including recent related experience in nutritional counseling and eating disorders, working with youth, and in adult education.

- Valid BC Drivers License is required.

OPEN UNTIL FILLED

Apply Now at:

Jobs.InteriorHealth.ca

Competition #: 01702328

