

Job Title Halifax and St. John's Offices - Opportunities in Risk Consulting - Full-Time - Fall 2024

Job ID 2023-22662

Location Halifax, NS & St. John's NL

Job Description Overview:

At KPMG in Canada, you'll join a team of diverse and dedicated problem solvers, connected by a common cause: turning insight into opportunity for clients and communities around the world.

Do work that matters, supported by a community that values difference and cares about you. Gain learning that'll last you a lifetime and be recognized for the impact you make. With a focus on encouraging employees to come as they are, KPMG provides its employees with a variety of unique tools and support systems that ensure they thrive and make their mark in their career and in their communities.

What you will do:

Our Halifax and St. John's offices are seeking undergraduate business, commerce and accounting and finance students who may be pursuing their CPA or CIA designation to join the team as full-time hire in Fall 2024 as a part of our practice.

Opportunities are available in our following practice areas:

Risk Consulting: Governance, Risk and Compliance Services (GRCS)

As part of KPMG's Governance, Risk & Compliance Services team, you will be working with professionals to provide a range of risk advisory services to organizations including internal audits, internal control advisory services, enterprise risk management support, assessments of third-party relationships, regulatory compliance, governance reviews and sustainability initiatives. We analyze and assess an organization's business risks and related processes and systems to help management understand and address business objectives, requirements, risks, controls, and identify improvement opportunities. Our professionals bring both deep technical and industry experience. The successful candidate will be responsible in supporting the planning, execution, and reporting for engagements, working both as part of larger engagement teams and individually with guidance and review from more senior professionals.

- You will be joining an experienced team and will assist the project team with GRCS mandates including internal audit, internal controls over financial reporting (ICFR – 52-109/SOX 404), risk management, and other risk and compliance projects
- You will be working with a team carrying our client engagements related across a variety of clients in different industries.
- You will demonstrate your proven communication skills by providing your business expertise through conversations, email and detailed summaries and reports
- You will enjoy a variety of projects assisting organizations that include conducting client interviews and walkthroughs, reviewing and analyzing documents and data, conducting research and benchmarking, and facilitating workshops
- You will make a difference with your contributions to other practice initiatives through knowledge sharing, HR initiatives and practice management opportunities
- You will have the opportunity to participate in the development of client engagement plans and other deliverables, including process and control documentation, reports and presentations, while helping to manage expectations of multiple stakeholders
