

Paid Holiday Opportunity: $525 to Work with a Tech Startup

Hey everyone,

Letting you know about a paid opportunity over the winter break.

Experience Ventures, a Government of Canada-funded program, has just opened 8 spots for a paid challenge running over the holiday break. You will work directly with an early-stage tech startup building a Job Readiness Operating System that helps learners practice interviews, get AI-powered feedback, and understand how employers evaluate their competencies.

You'll conduct research, develop strategy recommendations, and present your findings, all while getting paid.

What's in it for you:

- $525 honorarium for completing the challenge
- 40 flexible hours over 4 weeks (maximum)
- Work with a real company (not a case study)
- Collaborate with students from across Atlantic Canada
- Add a final presentation + report to your portfolio

Key Dates:

- Kickoff: December 10, 3:00–5:00 PM AST (virtual)
- Final Presentation: January 7, 3:00–5:00 PM AST (virtual)

Who can apply:

- Undergraduate students (domestic or permanent resident)
- Any major
- Must be available for the kickoff and final presentation
